Presenting Your Value to ACOs and Potential Partners

In today’s evolving health care system, home health providers are being challenged to engage in new and emerging models of health care delivery, while continuing to deliver high value in the traditional Medicare program. What data and research does the home health community have to demonstrate its value to patients and the health care system? What strategic framework should we be using to chart a path for the future of home health care? This session will delve into the data, research and initiatives that the Alliance for Home Health Quality and Innovation has sponsored to address these questions.

Home Health Value Based Purchasing – Will you be Ready?

Home Health Value Based Purchasing (VBP) is a new CMS Pay for Performance program linking payments to improved outcomes. The speaker will discuss with you the background and methodology of this new program based on the CMS Home Health final rule for CY2016. VBP is challenging and the presentation will include some insights as to how providers should prepare for these changes.

Home Health and Hospice Deep Dive Financial Considerations for Today’s Home-Based Care Providers

To succeed in today's increasingly coordinated and integrated care and service delivery models, home-based care providers will need a new, heightened level of financial acumen and leadership skills. This presentation will discuss key resources and best practices to assess various revenue growth and cost containment strategies that can help further expand service delivery and position home-based providers for future success.

Be the Leader of the PACT: Develop your Community based Post-Acute Care Transition Team

There is increasing pressure on Hospitals to work with their Post-Acute Partners (LTACs, IRFs, SNFs, & HHAs) to provide high quality services to patients following an acute hospital admission. The cost of these Post-Acute providers varies widely and most acute care hospitals and physicians pay little attention to post-acute care. Development of the Post-Acute Care Team (PACT) will focus on managing the care patients receive once they are discharged from the hospital and Home Health should take the lead in developing this team.
